The Joint Review Panel is looking at possible environmental, social and cultural changes related to the proposed Mackenzie Gas Project.

The Panel invites residents of Aklavik to speak during the public hearing.

Many residents may want to speak to the Panel, so advance notice would be appreciated. Registration forms can be picked up at the hamlet, band office or community corporation office.

For additional information, contact the Panel Manager in Inuvik at 678-8604.

What should I expect?

- It will be an informal setting.
- Priority given to residents of Aklavik to speak.
- Residents can talk about how the proposed project could affect their lives, community, land and environment.
- Interpretation will be available.
- Speakers must give their names.
